

I think Voom should be allowed to continue supplying Hd service. Their programming and commitment to the HD segment is commendable. I think having the ability to choose from more than 2 satellite services would be in the best interests of all of us and the fcc.